PROFILE

I have over a decade of experience in marketing, working as a Digital Marketing Analyst at Altimob, where I led a team to increase profits by 67% in three months. I'm skilled in SEO, Lead generation, content creation, and problem-solving, with a focus on understanding audiences and crafting impactful messages. Always eager to learn, I'm passionate about making an impact in the marketing field.

EXPERIENCE

Chief Growth Architect - T3X
09/2024 - 11/2024

- Led and managed the sales and marketing teams, driving strategic growth initiatives and optimizing performance across all functions.
- Created and executed targeted email campaigns and sequences in HubSpot, enhancing lead generation, customer engagement, and conversion rates.
- Spearheaded a comprehensive brand reboot, including the design and launch of a new website, the revitalization of LinkedIn presence, and the transformation of social media channels to align with brand vision and market trends.
- Developed compelling copywriting for web content, social media, email campaigns, and marketing collateral, effectively communicating brand values and driving customer acquisition.
- Collaborated cross-functionally with internal teams and external partners to ensure consistent brand messaging and cohesive go-to-market strategies.
- Analyzed market trends and data-driven insights to adapt sales and marketing approaches, resulting in measurable growth and increased revenue streams.
- Implemented process improvements and growth hacking strategies to enhance operational efficiency, customer retention, and market penetration.
