PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Economist with a Master's Degree in Finance and 4+ years of combined experience in finance, strategy, and business consulting. My expertise blends the practical knowledge gained through my work as a Controller, and subsequent roles in Procurement, independent advisory, and consulting, with the theoretical foundation from my master's studies. Over the past decade, I have specialized in analyzing and optimizing financial and operational KPIs, building and maintaining Excel-based models, and delivering data-driven insights to support strategic decisions. Currently, I work independently as a Financial Consultant and Advisor, providing support to SMEs and individuals, including cost structure analysis, custom modeling, portfolio management, and financial planning. Most recently, I served as a Consultant in the International Private Markets sector, working with a Swiss-based client on the implementation of a financial software tool. Earlier, I spent ten years in the oil & gas industry, gaining deep expertise in scenario modeling, budgeting, and contract negotiation. Native Spanish speaker and advanced English for professional contexts, including client meetings, presentations, and reporting in international environments. Driven by a constant pursuit of cost efficiency, I bring a hands-on, results-oriented mindset to every project.
