Cover Letter

With over 20 years of experience supporting C-suite leaders within US-based companies, startups, and unicorns, I offer the high-performance partnership required to optimize a CEO's office. I specialize in acting as a strategic communication bridge, ensuring that the CEO's voice and intent are mirrored across all internal and external interactions with diplomacy and authority.

I am expert at managing up and holding leadership teams accountable to deadlines through structured follow-through and proactive priority management. My background in founder-led environments has made me unflappable under pressure, allowing me to protect the CEO's time while preserving critical stakeholder relationships. Having worked extensively with tools like Notion and Google Workspace to build automated SOPs, I thrive in autonomous roles where I can transform shifting priorities into organized action items.

As a dual citizen with a valid US visa and a CHO certification, I combine professional rigor with a warm, engaging personality that facilitates strong client-facing functions. I am ready to step in as a trusted proxy to ensure your executive operations run with precision.
