AIMS & GOALS

Communication, Project Management, Content Production and Publications

Committed professional with maximum focus and total dedication. Loyal to the mission at hand, I invest myself entirely in order to achieve goals aimed by the group. I make myself always available to my coworkers, sharing all I know anticipating a 360 overview. In over 20 years of experience in publishing, I have been responsible for managing and executing all operations related to Project Management (P&L, Gantt, PMBOK, Scrum etc.), content production and development, People Management, Analysis and Coordination of resources and goals, plus a vast universe of operational tasks. Among these are worth mentioning advanced writing, scientific writing, manuscript prep, content development in English and Portuguese, Copyright management, editorial production, printing and digital production, budgeting, quality control, follow-up and outcome reporting to management and company board. I have obtained experience dealing with different fields and people. From lay to experts, particularly experts in health sciences and education, such as medical doctors, nurses, professors and teachers.

I have gathered and converged knowledge in finance, health sciences, languages, humanities and project management learned in university and post graduations, as well as in Manager positions exercised along my career.
